This Year's Freshman Class One of the Largest in Its History

FRESHMEN NOT SERIOUSLY HAZED

The Hazing Stunts—The Snake-Dance—The Matriculation Sermon—Calls for Athletics and Musical Clubs—A New Athletic Field—The Varsity Football Eleven—Denial of Statements Concerning Drinking Habits of Students.

(Special to The Bulletin.)

Yale College, Oct. 5.—Eastern Connecticut men in the academic department of Yale university include this fall the following:

Seniors, class of 1912, Elias Howard Alofsin, John Stephen Burke and Traver, Bristol, Conn.; Allan Wheeler York, North Stonington; Raymond Augustus Parker, Willimantic; juniors, class of 1913, Hartwell Greene Thompson, Taftville; Wilfred Charles Young, Norwich; Kenneth Miles Hillhouse, Willimantic; Emmerson Eaton White, Ledyard; Sophomores, class of 1914, Philip Adams Johnson, Norwich; Ernest Winslow Williams, Yantic; Harold Hayden Barber, Danielson. In the freshman class (1915) are registered William Humphrey Almy and Leslie T. Gager of Norwich; Randolph E. Chandler of Thompson; Thomas P. Hazard of Peacedale, R. I. and Joseph A. Vachon at Danielson.

This year's freshman class, numbering 349, as announced by Registrar A. K. Merrill, is one of the largest incoming classes at Yale college. It numbers a dozen more than did the freshmen class a year ago and as usual there will be further additions during the year.

Joseph Alfred Ambler, Ph. B., 1910, of Norwich, is in his second year in the graduate school, pursuing the subject of chemistry. Gerard Edward Jensen, B. A., 1907, M. A., 1909, of Norwich, is also at Yale again this year. James T. Hillhouse of Willimantic, B. A., 1911, is taking up advanced studies in English in the graduate school.

Raymond Bailey Case and Samuel Winslow Case of Norwich, Sheffield Scientific school, 1911, are back for graduate work. Thomas K. A. Hendrick of Taftville, Clayton M. Gager of Norwich, are members of the class of 1912, S. and Max Foley Randall and Wheeler, Norwich Free Acad. '11, are members of the freshman class. Raymond M. Holmes of Mystic is a member of the class of 1912, S. and Charles C. Ayers, Mystic, of 1913, S. William Hugh Burns, Willimantic, is a shift sophomore and J. H. Bradbury, Willimantic, is in the first year class. Owen E. O'Neill of New London is 1912, S.

There was little hazing of the academic freshmen by the sophomores this year and the annual class rush in front of Pierson hall on York street did not prove especially strongly contested. The freshmen who strayed away from the main body of their class and got captured by the sophs had to go through the usual tactics, the attempts of one big 250 pounder to climb up a lamp post and blow the electric lamp out being a hazing stunt that was particularly funny to everyone in the crowd except the freshmen.

The townspeople turned out largely, as usual, to see the annual snake dance around New Haven green, as did they also for the shift parade and rush, with the seniors in costumes that included everything between a Fiji Islander and Eve, with cloths and tailbirds seeming to predominate. The shift men marched out to Yale observatory according to custom for their wrestling matches, while the academic wrestling was held on the campus.

While the nine departments of the university held the first recitations last Thursday and college chapel began Saturday morning, the matriculation sermon on Sunday morning in Woolsey hall by President Arthur T. W. Twining, D.D., marked the real beginning of the year, and this week work has been begun in earnest. The keynote of the president's address was public service, the object for which Yale was founded, and straightforwardness, largeness of mind and soundness of judgment to value men and things for what they really are, were the cardinal points which he presented to the undergraduate body.

This week have been issued calls for baseball, track, crew and other sports, as well as for the university chess and mandolin clubs. Two hundred and sixteen men reported for crew work, the largest meeting ever held in the university. Graduate Coach Rodgers, Captain Roney, Bob Cook, '76, and other rowing men talked and there seemed to be a general spirit of optimism over the prospect this year under the new system of coaching. The material certainly seems to be present. The university men having been working since the middle of September. The fall results in rowing on Nov. 10. For fall baseball over 60 men came out Tuesday, and for track and cross country there are good squads.

A new athletic field opposite Yale field has been purchased by the athletic association for future use. It will be in readiness probably by next year.

The varsity football eleven has shown excellent form for the first of the season in their two games with Wesleyan and Holy Cross. Saturday they met a still stronger team, that of Syracuse. The remaining New Haven games are Virginia P. L. Oct. 14; Colgate, Oct. 14; Princeton, Oct. 21; Princeton, Nov. 11; Princeton, Nov. 18; West Point on Oct. 21 and Harvard on Nov. 25 are the only games away. There promises to be the usual demand for tickets for both the two championship games, the applications closing three weeks before each game. Each graduate is entitled to three tickets.

That the statements recently made by Crane of Chicago in regard to conditions in undergraduate college life, with particular mention of drinking at Harvard, and similar allusions to Yale, Princeton and other universities, are absurdly false is the opinion of those closest to Yale students. Dean Frederick S. Jones of the academic department, addressing the freshmen class Tuesday on college rules, said that 95 per cent. of Yale undergraduates can be safely trusted to follow the path of right living. The remaining 5 per cent. include the men who quietly leave college from time to time and never come back. The dean's words were in striking contrast to the statements of the Chicago writer, who alleged among other things that 85 per cent. of Harvard students drank, and 15 per cent. went to ruin thereby.

A FINE NIGHTCAP

The Best Thing in the World to go to Bed and Sleep on.

"My wife and I find that 4 teaspoonfuls of Grape-Nuts and a cup of hot milk, or some cream, with it, makes the finest nightcap in the world," says an Allegheny, Pa., man.

"We go to sleep as soon as we strike the bed, and slumber like babies till rising time in the morning."

"It is about 3 years now since we began to use Grape-Nuts food, and we always have it for breakfast and before retiring and sometimes for lunch. I was so sick from what the doctors called acute indigestion and brain lag before I began to use Grape-Nuts that I could neither eat, sleep nor work with any comfort."

"I was afflicted at the same time with the most intense pains accompanied by a racking headache and backache, every time I tried to eat anything. Notwithstanding an unusual pressure from my professional duties, I was compelled for a time to give up my work altogether."

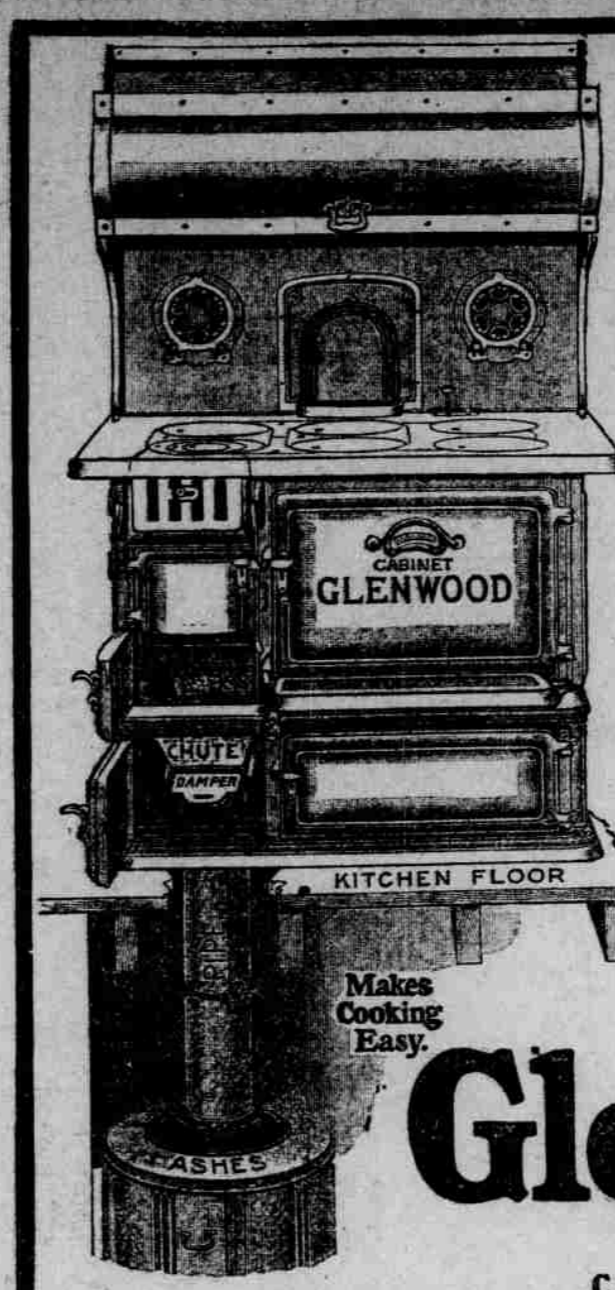

"Then I put myself on a diet of Grape-Nuts and cream alone, with an occasional cup of Postum as a runner-up, and sometimes a little dry toast. I assure you that in less than a week I felt like a new man; I had gained six pounds in weight, could sleep well and think well."

"The good work went on, and I was soon ready to return to business, and have been hard at it, and enjoying it ever since."

"Command me at any time any one enquires as to the merits of Grape-Nuts. You will find me always ready to testify." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs. There's a reason."

Safe Food for the Little Ones

The delight of children is pastry, cookies, cakes, doughnuts, and other dainties, in many of which a cooking fat is used. Lard is risky; it is simply hog fat, sometimes impure, often indigestible. To use butter is expensive and often impracticable. However, Cottolene—the pure vegetable-oil cooking fat—can be used in every way the same as butter or lard; it makes light, digestible, healthful food, and at less expense, too, one-third less being required than of either butter or lard. If you value the health of your children, shorten their food with Cottolene.
